CONVENTION WILL OPEN TO-MORROW

TEACHERS GATHERING FOR ANNUAL MEETING

James L. Hughes, Inspector of Schools, Toronto, Will Address Pedagogues —To-Morrow's Programme.

The reception to the visiting teachers at the Tourist Association rooms is an 'event' that should not be missed by any of the visitors or by the city educationists. Banfield's orchestra will be present, a musical programme of local talent, and during the evening the ladies will serve light refreshments. Addresses of welcome will be given by His Worship the Mayor, Chairman Jay, of the school board, and Principal E. B. Paul, on behalf of the city staff. Two of Victoria's fair representatives will then pin pretty badges on the coats of those present, and these will be worn during the convention. The reception takes place between the hours of 8 and 10 p.m.

Already the pedagogues are beginning to gather. From Vancouver A. C. Stewart, Geo. E. Robinson, Dr. C. Little, J. D. Buchanan, D. Blair, and R. N. Gilmore are in the city, and Principal J. B. Bennett arrived from Cumberland the end of last week. Great interest is being shown in the convention which commences to-morrow morning, not only by the teachers but also by many others who are interested in educational subjects. The great attraction will be the presence of one of Ontario's prominent men, James L. Hughes, inspector of schools at Toronto.

Mr. Hughes holds advanced views on educational matters, and is looked upon as an authority in his native province. No other educationist has had so much experience in platform work, his list of lectures that he delivers numbering about forty. One of his main engagements necessitates his hurrying away from Victoria before the close of the convention in order to attend a similar gathering in one of the eastern states.

To-morrow morning the teachers are particularly asked to be on time, as Mr. Hughes will commence his lecture punctually. In order to avoid the usual delay in enrolling members, envelopes have been provided into which teachers will place their institute fee and transportation receipt, with their names on the outside. This will occupy about five minutes, and all other business will be taken up after the lecture.

Perhaps the most important part of the whole convention will be the public meeting to be held on Wednesday evening to discuss the question of a provincial university. The speakers are men of note, some of whom have not yet been heard from on the question. Because of his official position Premier McBride should have something of interest to say, and he will no doubt give the meeting a statement of the government's position in the matter. The mayor, too, is said to have ideas of his own that should prove worthy of consideration. Bishop Perrin has in the past opposed any provincial scheme, preferring rather that young men should be sent to the older institutions in the east. Among the other speakers will be Archbishop Orth, who opposes a provincial government institution; Rev. Leslie Gray, Dr. Elliott S. Rose, who will deal with the utilitarian aspect of the subject, and last but not least the prominent visitor, James L. Hughes.

Among those who have been especially invited to attend the Wednesday evening meeting are the president, officers, and members of the board of trade, trades and labor council, women's council, W. C. T. U., Alexandra Club, Mothers' Club, the premier and cabinet, mayor and council, and besides these all and every person interested in higher education will be made welcome.

All the sessions of the institute will be held at the High school assembly room, except the Wednesday evening meeting, for which the Victoria theatre has been secured. The fact that this convention is held here only once in four years makes it an eventful occasion. The following is to-morrow's programme:

10 a.m.—Enrolment of members and appointment of committees. Modern Tendencies in Education, James L. Hughes, Inspector of Schools, Toronto.

2 p.m.—Practical Education, W. P. Argue, superintendent of Vancouver city schools. The Culture Aim in Education, Wm. Burns, principal of the Normal School, Vancouver.

8 p.m.—The School as an Agency in Training for Citizenship, J. D. Buchanan, provincial Normal school, Dickens as an Educator, James L. Hughes.

THE HAZELTON MURDERS.

Suspects Are Still in Hiding—Everything Being Done to Bring Them to Justice.

The search for the suspected murderers has been received by Superintendent Hussey, of the provincial police, that they have been apprehended.

Of the man murdered Max Leclaire was well known as a "guide and trapay" in Kamloops. In connection with the murderer of the other victim, Alex. McIntosh, Simon Gun-Ahs-Noot, an Indian, was implicated. The Indian had been drunk and had fought with McIntosh the previous evening at a packtrain camp two miles south of Hazelton. He then went to Kamloops and left the place declaring he would return with a gun. McIntosh started early next morning to hunt the packtrain horses. He returned to the camp with a part of the stock and got the road to the trail, which he had been out in the night the previous evening. Sadling his horse he started to ride to the doctor's to have his hand dressed at about 6:30 o'clock in the morning. The body was found about three-quarters of a mile from the camp on the road to the doctor's. He was apparently shot while riding. The bullet entered his back to the right of the backbone. It passed upward, piercing his heart, and passed out through the upper part of the left breast. Death was instantaneous. Leclaire's body was found later.

The Indian, who escaped, must have proceeded to his ranch, where he killed his four horses, and is then supposed to have crossed the river. Special constables have been sworn in, and the country around the Indian's ranch is being watched closely. The Indians refuse to give any information. They tell contradictory and misleading stories, and evidently are doing all possible to cover the tracks of the murderer, who has not been seen since by white men. The murderer's father, who purchased nearly a thousand rounds of ammunition after the murder, and who will not account for it, is believed to have supplied it to his son.

Col. Sanders, of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, arrived yesterday to make a detachment of the force en route from Edmonton. He has volunteered his services in trying to capture the murderer.

BRUTAL MURDER.

Gambler Knocked and Beat a Dance Hall Woman to Death.

Grand Forks, June 23.—Word has reached here of a most brutal murder having just occurred at Perry, Washington, by a gambler named Kid Rogers, who kicked and beat a dance hall woman to death.

The murder occurred at the Ferry hotel. The citizens of Perry and Midway were thoroughly aroused, and it was thought that an attempt to lynch him would be made, but the murderer gave himself up to Deputy Sheriff McGregor at Perry, and was protected by the sheriff, who sat in front of the gaol with a loaded revolver, and threatened to shoot the first one that attempted an assault.

Last night the murderer was taken to Republic for trial under heavy guard. Indignation all through the Boundary at fever heat as this is the most brutal murder in the history of the Boundary. Before the murderer was taken to Republic last evening an inquest was held on the remains of his victim, and it was found necessary to have a heavy guard to protect the prisoner. The murderer was without provocation.

TROUBLE AMONG LOGGERS.

Cincinnati, June 23.—Trouble has broken out at the lumber camps at Tloga, Nicholas county, West Va. Hostilities arose over the displacement by foreigners of Americans holding good positions. When the Americans were ousted they resorted to fire arms. The fight which followed resulted in the death of one foreigner, and the fatal wounding of another. Several others were slightly hurt. The news quickly spread throughout the mountain regions.

Campers learned it first, and having had similar experiences with the foreign element 100 men armed with rifles started across the mountains to aid the Americans. The foreigners had pickets watching. Sighting the advance of the armed men, the pickets gave the alarm and the foreign element of Tloga fled to Edgewood, forty miles away. The mill owners have determined to assist the foreigners.

AIRSHIP FLIGHT TO NORTH POLEWELLMAN MAY START
IN ABOUT A WEEK

Party now at Tremee Making Final Touches to Preparations—Some of the Difficulties,

Tremee, Norway, June 23.—For the second time within a dozen years Walter Wellman, the American explorer, is here completing preparations for a dash into the polar region, which lies at the very gates of this far northern town. If all goes well another week or so will see the little party of intrepid Americans ready for their airship flight over the Arctic seas with the north pole as their goal.

The Norwegians are taking the keenest interest in the Wellman expedition. Aerial navigation is new to them, but Arctic exploration is not. They view the American adventure kindly enough, but at the same time the Norwegians are true to their idol, and their idol in Arctic work, naturally enough, is the gallant Dr. Nansen. The popularity of Dr. Nansen is very great among his countrymen, and they look upon Mr. Wellman as a dangerous competitor of their favorite in the race for the pole. The vast majority, however, unite in the sentiment that if a Norwegian cannot have the honor of winning the pole, then it may be an American.

Mr. Wellman is putting the finishing touches to his preparations with the same feeling that he began the work. He has the same

Faith in the Feasibility of his plans, while at the same time he appreciates all the difficulties and dangers of the project.

Two problems are uppermost in his project. First, the vertical stability of his airship, as affected by heat, cold and precipitation, and controlled by guide rope and ballast; second, the possibility of successful anchorage during high winds. A balloon is necessarily a very delicate balanced instrument. A ray of sunshine, a puff of cold or warm wind, a touch of damp mist, causes the balloon to rise or fall. It is most essential in a protracted voyage to keep the balloon at an even-height. This the heavy guide rope does. Trailing along the ground or in the sea, it keeps the balloon down, since when the airship has a tendency to rise, it has to lift more and more of the weight of the rope. On the other hand, as the balloon descends, it is relieved of the weight. The guide rope is also of some service in steering the unstable craft, and for this purpose Andreu used several ropes.

According to Mr. Wellman's plans his airship is at no time to be out of touch with the Surface of the Earth.

A smooth, tapering line of steel is to drag its lower end over the ice, keep the ship at a fairly stable height (150 to 250 feet) and maintain, under ordinary condition, the vertical stability of the craft. Then there are other factors involved in the problem of vertical stability. There may be an accumulation of frost, snow, sleet or moisture upon the airship amounting to several hundreds of pounds in an hour or so. In operation the motor is consuming fuel at the rate, perhaps, of 300 to 1,000 pounds in twenty-four hours. The airship may lose a considerable part of its ascensional force through cold and loss of gas at the very time when, instead of dropping weight to correspond through consumption of gasoline, it is actually gaining weight through accumulation of frost and sleet. Again, the reverse may be true—a considerable gain of volume and lift force at the very time the motors are rapidly reducing the weight of the cargo.

The possibility of successful anchorage is shown by the fact that to cast the ship at anchor were to be attacked by a wind exceeding the tremendous velocity of fifty miles an hour, the envelope probably would be ruptured and the whole thing collapse in ruin. In such an event the aerial part of the voyage would come to an end, because the gas would escape, and the huge envelope would soon come tumbling down upon the ice. There would then be nothing to do but to continue the journey by means of sledging over the ice with ice motors, the fuel unsummed by the engines of the airship being available for this purpose.

ROSSLAND CAMP.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT

At a Coast Logging Camp—Young Man Killed.

Still another fatal accident is recorded from the logging camp along the northern coast. The victim was a young man named Ed. Bedford. On Wednesday last Bedford was working at Rossland on Jackson Bay, when a big tree, rushing down towards the water, struck a smaller one and knocked it over towards where he stood. It was on him before he had time to move and crushed in his side. He expired about an hour afterwards. Bedford was an unmarried man, about 25 years old.

WILL ISSUE ADDRESS.

Constitutional Democrats to Set Forth Their Position in Russian House.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—The Constitutional committee of the Constitutional Democrats to-day decided to draw up an address to the country setting forth their position in the lower house of parliament, especially in justification of their demands for the retirement of the ministry, and appealing for the support of parliament. The address will be signed by the Socialist group, which is working night and day to undermine the position of the Constitutional Democrats in the country, and to serve also as a platform on which the party can stand in case of a rupture of the administration, which many of the Constitutional Democrats now believe cannot come any too soon.

Rumors that anti-Jewish disturbances would take place to-day at Bielsk, Vilna and other cities within the pale, were industriously circulated, and resulted in great excitement. The reports, however, were without foundation. No disorders have been reported.

Soldiers Executed.

Voronezh, June 23.—The peasants of the village of Krutyniagoye, enraged at the killing of a cow by two soldiers, called a community meeting, finally condemned the two men to death and executed the sentence.

Prince Mansiloff Killed.

Ufa, Province of Russia, June 23.—Prince Mansiloff—an extensive land proprietor and army officer of the guards, was killed on the street here yesterday. The crime, it is supposed, was committed for political reasons.

Messenger Slain.

Kiev, June 23.—Messengers on the southwestern railroads who were carrying $150,000 were attacked yesterday by robbers who killed one messenger and wounded two and then drove away in a cab. Two of the messengers pursued the robbers and wounded the robber carrying the money, which was recovered.

MURDER MYSTERY.

Aged Mother of Mrs. Kinan, Who Was Beaten to Death, Gives Evidence.

New York, June 23.—Mrs. Louise Stanton, the aged mother of Mrs. Alice D. Kinan, who was beaten to death at her mother's home in the Bronx on June 6th, was the principal witness to-day before Coroner Macdonald, who is conducting the investigation into Mrs. Kinan's death.

"Alice and I were sitting in the kitchen reading when the bell rang," said Mrs. Stanton. "Alice got up and went to the door while I remained reading for some time. When she did not return immediately I wondered what was the matter with her. I did not hear any sound. Finally I lighted a lamp and went out on the veranda. I saw Alice lying on the end of the veranda near the flower pot stand. I bent over her to see what was the matter and saw blood on her head and on her hands. Then I went back to get some cloth to bind up her wounds. When I came out again the door closed upon me."

Mrs. Clay, who testified on the first day of the inquiry, said that she saw Mrs. Stanton at the door with a lamp immediately after she heard Mrs. Kinan's screams.

The most dramatic scene since the investigation began came when the old woman had been under cross-examination for two hours. Holding up the blood-stained hammer which the investigating officers believe was used by Mrs. Kinan's assailant, Coroner Macdonald asked: "Is this the hammer with which you killed Alice?"

"How dare you suggest that I killed my daughter?" cried the witness, her body shaking with anger. "I know nothing about the hammer and I don't know how it came to be hidden in my room. I never saw it before."

Mrs. Stanton also denied that she ever had seen the two daggers which were found concealed in a secret room in her home. She had been through an unusually hard examination in the two hours of questioning which preceded the introduction of the hammer and the battered portion of her daughter's skull. She answered every question, but threw very little new light upon the case.

DEATH AS ELIJAH.

He Tells of His First Revelation That He Was the Prophet.

A Chicago dispatch says: When John Duncan Dowie was on the witness stand before Judge Landis in the United States District court in the Zion City controversy, he was asked during cross-examination: "Are you Elijah the Restorer?"

"I have always been."

"When did you first become conscious of the fact?"

"It gradually grew." I resented the revelation, as it were, and for years was grieved and angry if anyone suggested that I was Elijah. I am not a visionary man. The first time it came to my attention was in Melbourne or Sydney, Australia, while at the head of a Bible society.

"One night I was asked to preach a sermon. I went to supper and ordered two meals, which I forgot to eat. I had been thinking over my subject, and could not get beyond Elijah. I was thinking of his remarkable career, and my supper got cold.

"Then I was told that I had been chosen to be the prophet. I had a message from God. I laughed and said, 'You go away and tell me alone.' He said, 'I want to tell you, you are Elijah.'

HEADLEY CAMP AN IMPORTANT CENTRE

DEVELOPMENT WILL FOLLOW THE RAILWAY

Major Megraw Tells of the Latent Wealth
Awaiting Advent of Great Northern.

In the opinion of Major Megraw Headley is destined to become a most important trading centre. The peculiar situation of affairs in the camp has been kept back for years, and the development on the various promising properties has not been what was warranted.

Major Megraw, who is editor of the Headley Gazette, has been spending a few days in Victoria as a representative at the Masonic grand lodge.

He says that he finds that outside of the town there is a decided misconception of the conditions in the camp. There is a prevailing impression that the only mine in the vicinity is the Nickel Plate, belonging to the great Daly corporation. This group of mines has been persistently developed, and the results have proved that the values in the camp's mines are such as to warrant the prediction that once railway communication is afforded Headley will become one of the greatest mining centres in the province.

Some gentle laxative and tonic should be used.

The system must be relieved of its burdens or you are to enjoy a happy healthy summer.

Physicians who have examined the formula of Dr. Hamilton's Mairdrake and Buttermilk Pills say no medicine could be better.

Whether ill or not, thousands reply on Dr. Hamilton's Pills which are truly marvelous in preventing debility and gain more in weight.

Mr. Ed. Megraw, an old resident of New Westminster, B. C., writes: "I don't say Dr. Hamilton's Pills will cure everything, but they made a quick job of building up my run-down system. I had kidney disease and constipation and was wholly unfit for work. Pain shot through my limbs and lodged in my back. Headaches often made me desperate. I had no appetite, an awful color, and felt despondent. Sometimes I was a little rheumatic. After a few days I began to mend, and I kept up Dr. Hamilton's Pills till I was restored to my present tip-top condition."

Can you afford to miss the benefit of this marvel-working medicine? Think of it. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. They are guaranteed to be of the best quality.

THE GARRULOUS NUISANCE.

Don't tell us a provincial general election is not impending. The Premier and his honorable right honourable friends are storming the provincial assemblies of Cariboo now. The Ashcroft Journal has challenged one of the members of the district, that ever popular Welshman Mr. Harry Jones, to make an oration of twenty minutes' duration. Mr. Jones is noted for the brevity of his speeches. He seldom wears his audience with long-winded addresses, and he is beloved by his constituents and friends on that account. He is such a contrast to so many public men whose loquacity bears a direct relationship to the puerility of their utterances. Mr. Jones, it appears, has undertaken for a good cause having no direct relationship to politics, to hold the floor for twenty minutes, and if he succeeds the journal will contribute the handsome sum of twenty dollars to the Barkerville hospital. We wish the member success in his mission; but we hope a good man may not be permanently spoiled as a consequence. Verbose is more or less a matter of habit when the disposition to treat subjects in columns which could be exhaustively disposed of in sentences is not inherited. We hate to think of even one good public man being spoiled by the contraction of evil habits. The talking craze is one of the plagues of modern times. If it were not for the weakness of numerous members who have nothing of consequence to say the sessions of the Dominion Parliament would not be prolonged beyond all reason. The members of the Conservative party have been subjected to quite a few bumps within recent years, but the spark of hope still burns brightly in their breasts. They still cherish in secret the belief that the days of their wanderings in the wilderness of opposition will come to an end. Holding this conviction, each one believes that when the borders of the promised land are crossed he will be called upon to take a seat in the great council of state if he can but contrive to keep himself in the white light that beats upon the principal actors on the stage. The public thoroughly understands, therefore, why it is that so many reckless charges are being flung across the floor of the House by the fourth-raters and why the time of men whose services are really of value is being wasted in discussions of no importance whatever. Needlessly prolonged sessions of parliament were unknown until the Conservative party was thrown out of power and the hopes of garrulous nonentities were fanned into a fierce flame. The aspiring creatures have now exhausted themselves. They think they have made their selection sure, and the public will soon see how quickly the business of the country can be disposed of and Parliament prorogued.

THE BLOOD OF THE CLEMENSES.

Your genius that springs from nowhere in particular and thrills the world for a passing moment with a spasm of brilliant achievement is all very well, but after all it is blood that tells. The creator of Bob Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn has long been regarded as the only member of consequence in the great Clemens family. But it appears there are others. The world would perhaps never have heard of at least one of these had not circumstances combined to bring him to the front rank and romance caused her flight to beat about his heroic person. The telegraphic dispatches tell us in their brief and matter-of-fact manner that one Abraham Clemens, seventy-four years old, a cousin of Mark Twain, and Mrs. Elizabeth McFarland, seventy-two years old, were secretly married lately. Mr. Clemens has survived two wives and his wife has outlived three husbands. The match was opposed by Mr. Clemens's stepson. The ceremony was set for 10 o'clock at night, but the Rev. Frank Fish got stuck in a swamp and did not succeed in extricating himself for an hour. He performed the ceremony while the water and mire dripped from his clothes. Mark Twain telegraphed his congratulations. Mrs. Clemens stated that she believed her husband would not require discipline similar to that she used on her last husband, whom she kept in a tree for three hours with a shotgun trained on him until he agreed to do what she wished. If Mark were not now an old man, given to making after-dinner speeches, what a beautiful romance he might weave out of this transaction, in which one of the members of his own family is so deeply interested. Does not the incident prove that even in prosaic America, world though the times be, and though the people are so deeply absorbed in the pursuit of the mighty dollar, there is still a faithful remnant left to whom the all-absorbing pursuit of Mammon is not the only thing worth while?

THE DAY OF OPPORTUNITIES.

Land values in the East and West are rapidly rising because population is pouring into the country at such an unprecedented rate. This natural tendency is being held up as a cause of reproach against the government because speculators take advantage of the opportunities thrown in their way. The construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway has created something in the nature of a boom in property in the town of Moncton, N. B., which will be the eastern terminus of the government section of the line. This increase in prices is a perfectly natural result of the enterprise of the Laurier administration. If Victoria were to become the terminus of a transcontinental railway, it is to be presumed there would be some movement in real estate, and that whoever could would take advantage of whatever fortune placed in his way. That is what an individual in Moncton did, and the fact that he disposed of his property to the government at a valuation not exceeding the current market price should not be considered as having any bearing upon the amount the property originally cost the vendor. Similar increases in the price of property are being noted all over the country. Wherever there is a prospect of the rise of a great centre of population, there the values are rapidly mounting upward. The Regina Leader calls attention to one of these. It says four years ago a corner property one block distant from Regina City Hall was unsaleable at $1,000. The next year it was transferred for $1,500. Four months ago the corner was sold for $20,000. This instance illustrates what is taking place between the Great Lakes and the Rockies practically everywhere. Fancy a party whose own management of the west was a notorious and lamentable failure trying in face of such correspondingly possible results of a brilliantly successful period of management, to condemn the policy and administration. Can anything more fatuous be conceived?

The abnormal infantile mortality in England led to the summoning of a national conference, which met in London under the presidency of John Burns, President of the Local Government Board. "In the days when there were no canned meats and children were fed naturally," said Mr. Burns, "there was no such sacrifice of child life." He added he believed he would be well within the mark in saying that 10,000 lives were sacrificed yearly through neglect, carelessness and ignorance. Drinking among women, Mr. Burns further declared, was one of the most serious tragedies which confronted Great Britain. This was daily increasing the mortality of infants under five years of age, and constituted a national reproach demanding immediate attention.

The band of adventurers is adding to its numbers. Wolves was bold in proportion to the strength of the bands in which they travel. Attempts at blackmailing the merchants of Victoria have been joined to the probably profitable occupation of putting the screws on the provincial government. Premier McBride's administration is to be congratulated on the very select company it keeps.

WATER QUESTION.

Mayor Will Present Report to Council This Evening Regarding Elk Lake.

Mayor Morley paid a visit on Saturday to the waterworks at Elk-lake, accompanied by the city engineer and others. Everything was found satisfactory, and investigation made into the best method of securing an additional supply of water from the present source. The results of the inspection being tabulated, and at the council meeting this evening the aldermen will receive further enlightenment on the water question.

Assistant Engineer Devereux was also dispatched to Spokane on Saturday. He will be able to render a decision regarding the suspected valve-thru which it is proposed to run a water main from Sooke lake to determine upon the location of Victoria's new water supply. After the two or three weeks' cessation from Thursday evening-meeting it is probable that they will be resumed, either this or next week. If so, the aldermen will wrestle with water until something definite is decided on.

PROVINCIAL UNIVERSITY.

Proposal to Be Discussed by Many Speakers at Public Meeting Wednesday.

The most interesting feature of the Provincial Teachers' convention, from the public point of view, will be the visit to the Victoria theatre on Wednesday evening. Hon. James Dunsmuir will occupy the chair, and many other invited to deliver addresses are Hon. Richard McBride, Archbishop Orth, Bishop Perrin, Chief Justice Hunter, James L. Hughes, of Toronto; Alex. Robinson, superintendent of education; Elliott S. Rowan, Dr. Rev. W. Leslie Clay and A. C. Ross.

The educational matter will be discussed in higher education. This will introduce the subject of a provincial university, on which all the gentlemen mentioned hold decided views, and an interesting discussion is expected. A large attendance is assured for the meeting at which, in addition to the speakers there will be a number of musical selections.

I have four lots near the corner of Burnside road and Elizabeth street, and I will sell them for half what they cost me some fifteen years ago.

These lots are situated in a beautiful locality, and should be worth $1,000 each, but I will sell them for $600 each. They are 50 feet wide, full depth.

Victoria realty is going to move. The city is on the eve of its greatest advance. Even the realty agents of the city do not realize that the eyes of the East are fixed on Victoria, and that both money and men will be more plentiful than in the golden days of '59.

Victoria will have more than its salubrious climate, for it is bound to become a great ocean port.

Why don't I hold on to these lots? I would if I lived here, but my home is in Montreal. Easy terms of payment can be arranged.

FORMER VICTORIAN
REVISITS HOMEBOOM OF THIS CITY'S REALTY IN NORTHWEST

Alfred Wood, of the Slater Company, Gives His Impression of Advertising—His B.C. Experiences.

"All the way along the line, particularly Winnipeg, I heard that there was a boom on in Victoria. I heard more about Victoria real estate in Winnipeg, Moose Jaw and Vancouver than I did in Victoria. I think Victorians must take their boom like the Englishman does his pleasures, sadly."

We find that advertising saves a lot of money," said Mr. Wood. "Our advertising lessons are wholesale, and our advertising in newspapers and by catalogues is certainly an important asset for Mr. Wood is now a director of the Semi-Ready Tailoring and is also advertising director of the Slater Shoe Company. These two business houses are perhaps the best known manufacturers in Canada, and their advertising expenditure is confined almost exclusively to the newspapers.

"We find that advertising saves a lot of money," said Mr. Wood. "Our advertising lessons are wholesale, and our advertising expenses. In fact, our selling expenditures and our advertising appropriation combined is a less percentage than the selling cost alone of the manufacturers who cling to old systems of business and old methods of manufacture."

IN THE POLICE COURT.

R. W. Martin Concluded of Fighting in Public Streets—Soldier in Trouble.

A case of more than usual interest came before Magistrate Hall in the police court this morning. R. W. Martin was the accused, and the charge laid against him was that of fighting on the public streets. He is one of the successful journalists of Canada, having been for a quarter of a century identified with the affairs of the Fourth estate. Mr. Wood, discussing his former residence here, said:

"I came to Victoria to help launch the late Theodore Davie's short-lived Daily News."

"On the demise of the News I started a publishing business, but sold it subsequently a small portion of it, leaving for selling then was tersely explained to one questioner, a competitor of mine. To him I said, 'You are only forty-five years old, and you look sixty-five. I do not want to look sixty-five when I am only forty-five—that is my chief reason for selling.' The job printer is the world paid business man I know of. The man who knows least about good job printing is the worst 'kicker.'

The speaker was Alfred J. Wood, until recently proprietor of the Ottawa Free Press, and at one time a resident of Victoria, where he was business manager of the News during its existence here. He is one of the successful journalists of Canada, having been for a quarter of a century identified with the affairs of the Fourth estate. Mr. Wood, discussing his former residence here, said:

"I came to Victoria to help launch the late Theodore Davie's short-lived Daily News."

"On the demise of the News I started a publishing business, but sold it subsequently a small portion of it, leaving for selling then was tersely explained to one questioner, a competitor of mine. To him I said, 'You are only forty-five years old, and you look sixty-five. I do not want to look sixty-five when I am only forty-five—that is my chief reason for selling.'

Mr. Wood is credited with making a small fortune in a few years in buying, reorganizing and selling newspapers.

"On my return to Toronto," he said, "I took the first position offering at $400 a year. In a very short time the same employer was paying me $1,000 a year, and I had to manage to catch police, and to-day paid the penalty of his indiscretion."

A charge of being disorderly on Chatham street was laid against a private member of the Royal Canadian Engineers. According to the evidence he was arrested while creating a disturbance in an house of ill-fame in that locality.

Testimony was given by his senior non-commissioned officer as to his good character as a soldier. In summing up the magistrate took this into consideration and imposed the comparatively light fine of $5.

Three drunks were dealt with in the usual way.

SALMON CANNING
STARTED IN CITYSOCKEYES COMMENCE TO RUN EXTREMELY EARLY

Good Lits Made From Local Fish Traps
on Saturday—High Wages
Asked.

Though the run of sockeye salmon has commenced some three weeks earlier than usual, it is not anticipated this year's pack will be a heavy one. For some cause at present unknown, the big run comes quadratically, which will make the next one due in 1908. This gradation has been preserved, as far back as records go, and has never been known to fail. The cause of the early run this year has been the subject of much discussion both here and on the Sound. Last season the cannery on the other side thought it meant a still larger run later on, but that failed to materialize. According to the Puget Sound American cannerymen are more than ever convinced that the more they run the habits of the sockeyes the less they know of them, and this is probably a true statement of the case.

It is reported from Vancouver, where the fisheries commission is holding sessions, that the joint sitting of the commissions representing British Columbia and Washington state will have to be postponed until September 1st, October 1st, or November 1st. The commissioners sitting in Washington are engaged in the salmon fishing industry and cannot leave during the season. The Canadian commissioners also hope to devote a considerable part of the season to personal inspection of the fishing grounds, so that in all probability the international conference will be deferred.

The fishermen's strike is settled and all boats are again fishing on the Fraser river," says the New Westminster News. "The cannery decided early in the week that they could not afford to remain idle at this season of the year, and, as a result, they acceded to the men's wishes and are paying 5 cents a pound for the fish. It is supposed that the action of the Unique cannery in buying up all the available fish was the means of hastening the decision of the packers."

Mr. Cain, of Galiano Island, had quite an exciting experience with some deer on Friday last. While out in his boat for a row he noticed three deer swimming across Whales Bay. He gave chase and headed them up a narrow inlet, at the head of which was a steep bluff of rocks with a flat mud beach at the base. The deer made several attempts to jump onto the top of the bluff, but were unable to do so. Mr. Cain watched his chance, and when the largest buck made a jump and fell back and rolled over he seized him by the hind leg and tried to hold him on his back until he could kill him with a pocket knife, which was the only weapon he had. He was not able, however, to open his knife, as it was a desperate struggle, which finally ended in the deer regaining his feet, when the whole three bolted off and scampered down the beach. Mr. Cain was left lying prostrate on the beach.

II TROUNCE AVENUE LEE & FRASER VICTORIA B.C.NEW GRAND THEATRE

Eminent New York Cartoonist is Headliner of Vandeleve Programme This Week.

Bert Levy, the famous cartoonist and correspondent of the New York Morning Telegraph, opens a week's engagement at the New Grand theatre tonight. The explanation of Mr. Levy's staying in the newspaper world is the vaudeville stage lies in the fact that he has been commissioned by his paper to sketch the West as he finds it, and also to make a study of the various vaudeville types, and in order to do it well he has himself become a vaudeville artist, as well as a cartoonist.

Levy is making the most out of it. Some exceptionally fine things may be expected of him when he gets back to his desk in New York city, and has a bit more leisure time to look back and sketch more of the interesting persons and things which he sees. As to his work on the stage, he is an artist all through as will be recognized by once by all who see him during the week, and the new theatre should, and undoubtedly will, be packed at each performance.

There are a number of other good things on Manager Jamieson's programme for the week.

FRISCO STEAMERS RUNNING

Despite the efforts of the Seamen's Union, the Pacific Coast Steamship Company appear to be successfully operating their steamers between Puget Sound, Victoria and San Francisco. The Umatilla arrived last night and this evening it is announced that the City of Puebla will sail for the Golden Gate.

Officials of the company state that no trouble is being met in securing non-union crews for the steamers, and they also declare that they are securing at least a few of the old employees who have gone back to work. They declare that since the increase in wages has been announced the applications for employment have been more numerous than could be granted.

The union men, on the other hand, say that the men who are accepting positions on the company's vessels are incompetent, and one affidavit has been filed with the marine inspectors of Seattle to the effect that on the trip up from San Francisco the Japanese sailors employed were unable to handle the boats during fire drill.

NEW KOSMOS LINERS

Within two weeks the big freighter Setos, of the Kosmos line of steamships, will arrive at Seattle on her first voyage to the Pacific Coast, and on the second trip she has made since she was built. So great has the company's business become that it has been found necessary to add vessels to the fleet at different times, but this season several additional ones are to be placed on the run. All of them are new boats.

On June 2nd the Salatis left Hamburg on her maiden voyage to the Coast. The Serapis, another of the new freighters which have recently been purchased by the line, may be placed on the Hamburg-Seattle run. She is named after the old vessel which was wrecked off the coast of Chile two years ago. Two other sets, the Solaris and Sakkara, are also to be put on by the Kosmos. All of the new vessels are 3,000-ton steamships and are built on the modern plan. The Sakkara is not yet completed. She is being built in England, in the same shipyards where the Kosmos was constructed.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

The department of marine and fisheries gives notice that the black steel can buoys, heretofore marking Horseshoe Ganges harbor, have been replaced by a platform buoy with shallow pyramid surmounted by a black steel drum in which the buoys are stored in position.

The buoys heretofore maintained in False Narrows, between Pt. St. Charles and Northumberland Channel, having disappeared, have been replaced by the wooden spar buoys, painted red, mounted in the same positions as the missing buoys.

IROQUOIS SUNDAY TRIP

HUNDREDS VISITED THE PRINCESS MAY

REMODELED SHIP GREATLY ADMIRER

Tees May Be Placed on the West Coast
Points Early Next Week.

There was a large crowd on the C. P. R. wharf, and many spectators spect the newly remodelled steamship Princess May. When all her electric lights were turned on at night the picture presented by the ship was exceedingly bright and animated. She was admired by all who saw her. "Although many visited the wharf during the day, it was not till 8 o'clock in the evening that the steamer was thrown open for inspection. At this time the ship was a blaze of light, and looked her best. Some hours previously the Amur had arrived, and her crew had been transferred to the Princess May. As they took their places on the newly commissioned Skagway liner, all was commotion, hurry and noise. At 8 o'clock also the passengers were allowed to go aboard, and from that hour until the steamer sailed for Skagway at 11 o'clock the officers and members of the crew were as busy as they could be.

The Princess May succeeds the Amur on the Skagway run, and the latter will now, it is stated, be placed on the northern British Columbia run. The Princess May and Princess Beatrice will maintain the summer schedule on the Skagway route, incidentally providing the Skeena river with a new tranship connection. This trip, according to this plan, will probably be placed on the West Coast about the first of next month, and the Queen City, which has been doing service on this route for several years, will be laid up for a well earned overhauling.

On the Skagway route the Princess May, it is expected, will establish a name for speed and comfort above all other liners on the route. She will, therefore, be a strong competitor for business. Her start in service has certainly been a good indication for her future popularity.

When she leaves Vancouver it is thought she will be filled up. The vessel had a good freight from Victoria.

Her passengers from this city were composed largely of people destined for Dawson. A list of these is as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. A. Tuss, R. Dogill, J. L. Griffiths, W. E. Green, O. Critter, R. Thaddeus, W. H. Gardner, J. Clement, H. Ferring, W. R. Clements, J. Lund, F. Pule, S. Hardison, A. Gibbs, H. J. Smith, H. Gilbert, J. Johnson, J. Paris, A. F. Waagen, W. H. Mellish, H. M. Stanley, J. Walker, A. O. Lee, A. Wilson, E. Eriksson, E. Lindford, J. Johnson, R. Dunn, J. Rushton, H. Edinger, P. O'Bryan, F. Harris, C. Christianson, P. D. Delbut, C. H. Cooper.

Among the passengers booked for Skagway were Rev. B. Trotty and family and E. C. Emery.

NO HOLES FOR STEAMERS

Little more is heard about the steamer Centennial, which, with a cargo of sulphur, and under command of Captain Gilroy, left Mororan, Japan, on February 21st last and has not since been heard from. She has been out 120 days on a trip that is ordinarily made in twenty-five days, and the well-known old vessel therefore generally regarded as lost.

A VICTORY FOR NEW WESTMINSTERWON LEAGUE LACROSSE GAME ON SATURDAY

Victoria Unable to Raise Full Team for First Quarter—Other Sporting News.

Saturday's inter-city game between Victoria and New Westminster lacrosse teams was a distinct disappointment. It was won by the visitors by a score of 6 goals to 2 after a contest in which the local players demonstrated a thorough knowledge of the game and a form which should have carried them through to victory had they had any kind of good fortune. But for some inexplicable reason, success seems to have become a stranger to a Capital City aggregation. No matter how careful the preparations or how strong the team gathered together something inevitably occurs at the last minute to upset the calculations of the management. Some days ago the Times commented upon the difficulty always experienced in securing a creditable team to play an away from home game, the required men never being able to get away from the daily routine for a sufficient length of time to represent their city in the Canadian national pastime. This time attention must be called to an even more serious and inexorable condition of affairs, the failure of the Victoria club to put their chosen team upon the field in a home game.

Can Victoria raise a strong intermediate team? This is a query that suggests itself to the minds of the men who were present at Oak Bay on Saturday and saw the boys in blue gathered upon the green two men short of the required strength. To those who went out to cheer the home team in their efforts to humble the proud spirit of the Royal City stalwarts it was somewhat humiliating to see Manager Yorke negotiating for the dismissal of two of the Westminster players in order to make matters more even. And the pill became more bitter when, after the first quarter, it was found that man to man the Victoria team was more than a match for the visitors despite their confidence and reputation. The home eleven started well and had only a few runs to make with noon-day tickets to even matters. But the last batters failed deplorably and were retired before Victoria's account had reached the mark made by the visitors.

THE ROD.A RECORD CATCH.

W. E. Duthie made an exceptionally good catch at Shawnigan Lake yesterday. Besides capturing a basketful of first-class average-sized trout, he landed two exceptionally large ones. One was 21 inches long, 11 inches in circumference, and weighed 3½ pounds, while the other was 20 inches long, 8 inches in circumference, and weighed 2½ pounds. He was using a peculiar combination spoon, his own invention.

CRICKET.VANCOUVER WON.

The Victoria and Vancouver teams tried conclusions on Saturday at the Jutland grounds. The game resulted in a win for the visiting crew by a score of 89 to 57 runs in the first innings. The Terminal City team was first to bat, and succeeded in running up the score mentioned. The home eleven started well and had only a few runs to make with noon-day tickets to even matters. But the last batters failed deplorably and were retired before Victoria's account had reached the mark made by the visitors.

ATHLETICS.FIFTH REGIMENT SPORTS.

Many friends of the militia now under canvas at Macaulay Plains gathered on Saturday afternoon to witness the field events that are a feature of the annual competition. The band was on the ground and enlivened the proceedings with suitable music.

Every event called out a good entry list and was duly fought. Pipe Major Arthur played the bugle during the several intermissions. The results of the day were as follows: Judges, Hon. Capt. W. W. Hobson and Lieut. James Clark, clerk of the course; Rat. Sgt. Major MacDougall; starler, Hosp. Sgt. F. Richardson; time-keepers, Sgt. F. Richardson and Corp. B. Prior.

Probably the most interesting event was the steeplechase, that called forth a large field. Spurrier, who had forgotten printing offer cards for an hour or two, headed off for a long distance, but the heavy lifting of Gazettes had impaired his wind and he gradually subsided to be passed by more sustainable springers. Nearing home the race was seen to be between Bochfort, of No. 3 company, and Cobbett, of No. 2. The former won by a few feet. The various winners are found in the following list:

100 yards—Morley, No. 1 Co.; Cobbett, No. 2 Co.; Gordon, No. 3 Co., Time, 11.5. Tent race—Sergt. Maj. Lorimer, No. 2 Co.

Hurdle race—Jasper, No. 2 Co.; Pauline, No. 1 Co.

Officer's race—Capt. R. Angus and Miss Sandpine; Miss J. Edwards, A. Wakefield; Miss Boston Mrs. Colwell; Miss Mulligan, J. Mulligan, W. W. Blain, Annie Blain, A. McFarland, Mary Smith, J. Smith, Miss Crossley, A. Belmont, Mrs. McFie, Joe Mayer, T. M. Johnson and wife, V. Watson, K. McCurdy, A. Horne, Mrs. Phillips, W. S. Bam, Mrs. J. Watson, Chas. Mayer, Mrs. Mundraun, Miss Engleman, E. E. Rice and Mr. excusonist.

length. The Jenkins and Wolfenden crews were the last pair to compete in the opening round, the former winning by three lengths. One of Wolfenden's men struck a piece of wood with his oar, losing some time, but it is thought the best crew proved the victors.

Clarke and Baylis met in the semi-finals and Baylis' crew won out. Clarke tried a spurt at the finish, but was unable to take the lead. This left Baylis and Jenkins to compete in the final heat, and it was a good one! Every inch of the course was hotly contested and it was only by a supreme effort Jenkins won out, as mentioned above. The races were a mile straight away.

Immediately after the regatta entries were received for that to be held in July, and already quite a number of members have signified their intention to compete.

CORNEL'S VICTORY.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 23.—Cornel again won the honors in the annual regatta of the Inter-Collegiate Rowing Association held here this afternoon.

Cornell won the varsity eight by nearly two lengths, Pennsylvania being second, Syracuse ten lengths in front of Wisconsin, with Columbia four lengths further behind and Georgetown bringing up the rear.

In the four-oared race won by Cornell, Syracuse was second, Columbia third and Pennsylvania last. In the freshman race, Syracuse was followed across the line by Cornell, Wisconsin, Columbia and Pennsylvania.

ARGONAUTS POPULAR.

LONDON, June 23.—Should the Argonauts lift the cup it will be one of the most popular wins in years, especially among river men and trades people of Henley. On all sides wishes are expressed for their success.

This year the Argonauts have sponsored a boat over the half course to Fawley, 2.3 miles. Their trials followed during the half course to Fawley, 2.3 miles. Last evening's time should for the Argonauts be the complete course be a single winner, 7.18. The Argonauts have done the full half course faster than any of the other crews in this year.

The Henley regatta stewards, including the president of the American National Association of Amateur Clemen, regarding the visit of the Venetian crew, Philadelphia, to Henley in 1905, that no further entries shall be accepted from the Vespers. Mr. Fletcher, the Oxford "coach," gave notice of a motion to the effect that no further entry from any American club shall be accepted.

WINNIPEG DEFEATED.

WINNIPEG, June 23.—The Souris lacrosse team, champions of the W. C. L. A., and aspirants to the Minto cup, horses defeated Winnipeg here to-night, 6-3, after a crowd of about 4,000, who watched the keenest spite of a dazzling rain.

The champions never had to extend themselves and their form was a surprise to the spectators.

THE ROD.A RECORD CATCH.

A WARNING:

Sausage Manufacturers Must Label Products with Description of Preservatives Used.

New York, June 25.—Within the last two days it is learned about fifty manufacturers of sausages have been called before the board of health and warned that they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law if they do not at once comply with the provisions of the sanitary code and label their products with a description of any preservatives used. Investigations made by inspectors and analysis made by the department chemists have shown that practically all the sausage manufacturers use preservatives.

The boys stole the ship's small boat one night while the vessel was off the Tahiti coast, and they managed to reach land on the southern coast of the island after a two-days' sail.

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY.

Serious Charge Against M. A. Young and H. Jonas, Who Were Arrested in London.

(Associated Press)

London, June 25.—At the opening of the prosecution to-day in behalf of the treasurer at the Guildhall police court in the case of Mark Anthony Young and Harry Jonas, local managers of the American Mining, Milling & Smelting Syndicate, who were arrested June 18th, on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the public by valuable shares, R. D. Muir, counsel for the treasury, said the evidence in hand indicated that serious frauds had been committed. Since January the country had been flooded with advertisements of the American Mining, Milling & Smelting Company purporting to own mines in Alaska, California, Montana, Utah, Colorado and Mexico, which paid 12% per cent interest. Documents sent out by the company announced that the net profits of the company for nine years were upwards of $2,500,000, and that the dividends totalling $12,500,000 had been paid. Mr. Muir concluded with saying that the correspondence seized showed the defendants had on foot a scheme by which certain financiers in France were to put $2,500,000 into the concern, and a similar plan was in progress for which a sum not so large was being conducted in England.

After the presentation of evidence regarding the printing of circulars the hearing was adjourned.

Young was admitted to bail in $25,000, and Jonas in $5,000.

FIRING NEAR MOSCOW.

It Is Believed There Has Been Fighting Between Loyal and Disloyal Troops.

Moscow, June 25.—The sound of intermittent firing of field guns and rifle volleys was heard for an hour last night outside the town, in the direction of the Red Guards. It was impossible to secure details, but it is believed there has been a fierce fight between an enormous number of discontented soldiers of the Moscow garrison and the loyal, the authorities being compelled to use artillery to put down the rebellion.

All persons are forbidden to approach the fortresses, and the authorities absolutely decline to discuss the matter.

The first sound heard was rifle firing by volleys, which increased in violence as the moments went by, and was soon added to by the loud noise of field guns in action.

It has been rumored for several days that the garrison of the city was on the point of mutiny, and a report was in circulation that a mass meeting of the soldiers was to be held this afternoon.

THE BIALYSTOK MASSACRE.

Former Premier Witte Holds the Ministry Responsible.

London, June 25.—The Times St. Petersburg correspondent says that Count Witte has telegraphed Emperor Nicholas that the Bialystok massacre, for which he holds the ministry responsible, has completely neutralized his efforts to conciliate foreign opinion.

—Already the tramway company's bathing pavilion at the Gorod is becoming popular. There were large crowds in swimming on Saturday and Sunday evenings. The beach has proved all that could be desired, shelving gradually and having a sandy bottom very pleasant for bathers. The pavilion accommodation also is excellent, in fact every possible convenience has been provided.

One of the cleverest inventions ever brought out is the machine for sticking pins in the papers in which they are sold.

The contrivance brings up the pins in rows, draws the paper in position, clips it in two lines; then at a single push passes the pins through the paper and sets them in position.

MISSION FURNITURE

When we ventured to introduce Mission Furniture into British Columbia, we felt confident it would ultimately become one of the leading styles of Home, Club, Hotel and Office Furnishings, but we did not anticipate it would attain such rapid popularity amongst those who demand and will have true art, durability and harmony in their furniture. We have just placed in our show-rooms some exquisite pieces of Mission Furniture. Many are in the well known Spanish Mission Style, and amongst them are two styles now extremely popular in fashionable centres.

EARLY ENGLISH

The Spanish Fathers not only obtained their oak but also a great many of their decorative features from medieval England. The great artists who occupy themselves at the present day in designing mission furniture have gone to the same sources for their inspirations, with most successful results. We describe a few out of a number of pieces waiting your inspection.

BUFFET

In early English mission, fine selected matured oak, weathered finish, has long table linen drawer, two short drawers, one lined with green baize for silverware; two cupboards in valerettes; best British plate, bevelled edge mirror and beautifully decorated with early English carving. Price $12.50.

MAGAZINE AND NEWSPAPER CABINET

Early English Mission, very fine weathered finish, selected oak, beautiful design, has fitted cupboard for magazines at top and shelves for newspapers, etc., at foot; takes up very little room and is a most useful piece of furniture. Price $12.50.

TABLE

Early English Mission weathered oak, very strong and solid. Price $18.

WRITING DESK

Early English Mission, a charming design, interior carefully finished and planned to hold stationery, writing materials, ladies' account books, visiting cards, etc. Price $25.

DINNER WAGON

EARLY DUTCH

Space will not permit of our describing more than one piece of this fine school of design. It differs from the early English and Spanish by deviating from the straight line front and generally having plate racks at top for displaying antique china.

SIDEBOARD

In early Dutch style projecting front, in fine selected oak, carefully weathered, has long linen drawer immediately under the table part, in the front centre are three useful drawers, one lined with green baize for silver plate ware, two large cupboards on valerettes, one at each end, these are fitted with fine cathedral glass doors, best British plate, bevelled edge mirror, the top part is fitted with two plate racks for displaying antique china. Price $100.
